Middle School Bibliography

Students in middle school years should be learning to use the APA 7 system to write their bibliography. They do not need to reference page numbers of books (although this is part of full referencing for senior years students). If there is no date for the source you are using, put (n.d.) meaning no date in replacement of where the year of publication goes.

'A' grade students should be working towards using in-text referencing in addition to their bibliography and are encouraged to utilise referencing software to manage their referencing.

An APA 7 Bibliography should follow the following formats:

Book with Author

Author's family name, Initial/s. (Year of publication). Title of book (edition if it is not the first). Publisher.

Chabon, M. (2008). Maps and legends. McSweeney's Books.

Hint: If more than one author, use & between the names

Book with Corporate Author (company/organisation/government department)

Authoring body. (Year of publication). Title of book (edition if it is not the first). Publisher.

Department of Planning and Sport. (2018). Capital idea: realising value from social performance. Department of Planning and Sport.

Hint: When the author and publisher name are the same, you do not need to repeat it for the publisher also.

Online with Author

Quan, G. (2019, November 11). Look out: it's a cheese. Institute of Ideas. http://www.loic.edu.au/beware.html

Hint: If resource is from a book online, only the year is needed but if it is an article online then it will also need the day and month.
